PROGRAM REPORT

Name of the program: A 5-Day FDP on Cyber security

Organized by: Computer Science Engineering

Date: 26-12-2019 To 30-12-2019

The aim of this program is to promote research aspects in internet security, familiarize with tools available for network scanning, identify and synthesize needs for internet security techniques, share information and practical awareness for data and system protection from cyber-attacks. The FDP will start with an overview of cyber security aspects to help the audience understand the importance in real life scenarios. This FDP is planned into two parts: ethical hacking hands-on sessions and technical cyber security sessions. The technical session part of the FDP will focus on the most challenging contemporary issues in cyber security,

Objective:

To update faculty members with the latest advancements, trends, and emerging technologies in the field of cyber security, to enhance faculty members pedagogical skills and instructional strategies for teaching cyber security concepts, to provide hands-on training in cyber security tools, techniques, and practices, to foster collaboration and knowledge sharing among faculty members and industry experts and to encourage the development of new cyber security course materials and curriculum.

About the FDP: Cyber security is the body of technologies, processes, and practices designed to protect networks, computers, and data from attack, damage, and unauthorized access. Increased Internet penetration for applications such as e-Governance, e-Commerce, e-Banking, digital payments, eLearning, smart cities etc, has resulted in an exponential rise in sophisticated attacks on Information Technology infrastructure. In a bid to stave off e-criminals, organizations are increasingly investing in ramping up their digital frontiers and security protocols, however, many are still put off by the costs, or by the bewildering range of tools and services available. This has led to Cyber Security as an essential aspect to make aware of the challenges and methods to meet the new age attacks to secure our computers and networks. The objective of this FDP is to introduce fundamentals to promote a solution based research approach in cyber security through expert sessions and hands-on training among faculty academicians, industry personnel and researchers.

- Outcome of FDP :
- Enhanced Knowledge: Acquired updated knowledge of cyber security fundamentals, emerging technologies, and industry best practices.
- Improved Pedagogical Skills: Developed enhanced instructional strategies to deliver cyber security concepts effectively to their students.
- Hands-on Experience: Gained practical experience through hands-on workshops, enabling them to apply cyber security techniques in real-world scenarios.
- Networking and Collaboration: The program fostered collaboration and networking opportunities among faculty members and industry experts, encouraging future research collaborations.

Theme of FDP:

This new technology has the potential to change the world, just as the Internet did; maybe even more so. IoT is based on Next Generation Networks to communicate the huge amount of data gathered from the physical world. Furthermore, the availability of Big Data can be leveraged to make inferences about many phenomena and take corrective actions to mitigate unwanted effects. In addition to applications in cities and in industries, IoT can greatly benefit populations in Developing Countries; food safety can be checked, water quality can be monitored, air quality can be measured. in cities in real time.

Major Course Contents:

1. Describe what IoT is and how it works today
2. Recognize the factors that contributed to the emergence of IoT
3. Design and program IoT devices
4. Use real IoT protocols for Communication
5. Secure the elements of an IoT device
6. Transfer IoT data to the cloud and in between cloud providers

Outcomes

- Understand the definition and significance of the Internet of Things
- Learn about the architecture, operation, and business benefits of an IoT solution
- Examine the potential business opportunities that IoT can uncover
- Explore the relationship between IoT, cloud computing, and big data
- Identify how IoT differs from traditional data collection systems
